Services as an Administrative Failure unless the student contacts the instructor before the second week of absence and satisfactorily explains the reasons for the absences. The policy states that “a student in an online course may be administratively failed after not submitting an assignment, responding to a discussion question, completing a graded assignment, or otherwise performing some type of activity that shows active involvement in the course for a period of two weeks. At their discretion, faculty may reinstate students who resume attending after the grade has been assigned.” An Administrative Failure is not the same as a Withdrawal. A student must contact Enrollment Services to withdraw from the College.

Online Discussions/Journals

Online discussions and journals will be posted for your course on Brightspace on the Discussion Board. Your weekly initial discussion posts are due by Wednesday at 11:55 pm, Eastern Standard Time.

Responses to other students’ posts are due by Sunday 11:55pm. Some weeks there are journal assignments in place of the discussion. These are due by Sunday at 11:55pm. Late discussion posts or assignments in place of the discussion (journals) will not be accepted beyond the weekly Sunday at 11:55pm deadline.

If a student fails to participate in the online discussion or complete a homework assignment for 2 consecutive weeks, he/she will be given an AF grade. In addition, any student that misses 3 or more discussions or assignments may be given an F grade at my discretion.

Students must be respectful and professional to all other students and the instructor during online discussions and any other communications.

You will have an “Introduce Yourself” discussion where you introduce yourself. This will be just one post from you and is exempt from the requirements listed below.

During the semester, you will contribute to online class discussions on Brightspace relating to topics that we cover in assigned readings and homework. In your entries, you will write about the significant points in the topics covered and how they relate to you and your experiences with business. This is an opportunity to demonstrate critical reading, writing skill and your understanding of the text. Please share your insights and observations.

As part of this assignment, you will also comment on at least one other student’s discussion post in that week (the goal is robust, on-line, dialogue). Your comments must be constructive and substantive. When responding to threads, you are required to respond thoughtfully and with reference to examples and theory. The question or statement for discussion will be available online on Monday of each assigned week – initial posting for the week’s topic must be completed by Wednesday 11:55pm and conversations on that topic will conclude by Sunday at 11:55pm of that week. Refer to the rubric for grading scheme, and review it versus your post prior to submitting.

Online discussion evaluation will be based on your response’s relevance and contribution to topic. You should: Incorporate vocabulary and/or major concepts from the chapter.

- Incorporate examples & quotes from articles assigned and your experience to reinforce points.
- Make sure you work to move the discussion forward.
- Bring in information from other sources; Pose your own thought provoking questions.
- Make sure you don’t repeat the same thing as previous students.

Discussions are mandatory. If a student fails to participate in the online discussion for two consecutive weeks s/he will be reported as a student that has stopped attending class. This will remove you from the class regardless of any other assignments you turn in.

Study hard – and good luck! Late work is not accepted.

Tests

There are 3 tests. They are made up of 50 to 60 multiple choice and true-false questions. The tests are 2 hours in duration, so set aside 2 hours of uninterrupted time to complete the test. See the assignment schedule below for the chapters each test covers and the due dates. Tests must be taken during the week they are open. Tests open the Monday of the week they are due, except the last test, which may open the week-end before, so check the last test on Brightspace and on the assignment schedule below. Exams are due by 11:55 pm on Sundays as assigned, although the final test can be due the last day of the semester, which may be a Friday or Saturday. Take a look at the assignment schedule below for the exact date. Failure to take a scheduled exam will result in a “0” grade for that exam. Make up exams are not given.

Article Review Project

There are three Article Review Assignments. A one-page analysis (250 word minimum) with your insights must be submitted as a discussion. Comment on at least one other student’s review. They will be graded based upon your understanding of the article, your comments on the contents of the article, your ability to tie the article material to the contents of the text and the quality of your comments on another student’s post. Higher grades will be given for (1) excellent analysis, (2) your insights, perspective, ideas and/or personal examples relevant to the article and (3) tying the material to the text. Students are required to comment on at least one other student’s article review. The due dates for these projects are in the assignment schedule below (last page of syllabus), and are due Sunday by 11:55pm for the week indicated. Details on the Article Reviews are located in the Course Content folder, in the week the assignments are due, per the assignment schedule at the end of the syllabus.

SMCC Pay-for-Print Policy

Each semester students receive a $20 printing credit. The balance resets at the end of the semester and any remaining credits are removed. The College's pay-for-print system monitors printing on all printers (including those in general access labs, library printers, Tutoring Services, Campus Center Lounge and technology labs). Be sure to log OUT of the system when you've finished your printing, to prevent unauthorized access to your account. Students can check the number of pages they have printed by using the Printing Balance tool available on SMCC computers (located in the lower right corner of the screen, near the clock). Departments with work study students who need to print documents for the department should contact the Help Desk at 741-5696 to have a special account set up. To find ways to reduce your printing charges, please go to the IT Help tab on My SMCC. If you have questions about the pay-for-printing policy or your printing charges, please contact the Help Desk at 741-5696 or send an e-mail to helpdesk@smccme.edu.

Refunds

Print jobs are eligible for a refund in the event of mechanical or electronic error on the part of the printer, print server, or software used to submit the job. Jobs are not eligible for a refund in cases where the job was not set up correctly, was submitted multiple times, or the student is not satisfied with the result. To request a refund, please bring the offending print to the IT Department in the basement of the Ross Technology Center. Refunds will be granted in the form of a credit to the student's account.

Add-Drop Policy

Students who drop a course during the one-week "add/drop" period in the fall and spring semesters and the first three days of summer sessions receive a 100% refund of the tuition and associated fees for that course. Please note any course that meets for less than the traditional semester length, i.e., 15 weeks, has a pro-rated add/drop period. There is no refund for non-attendance.

Withdrawal Policy

A student may withdraw from a course only during the semester in which s/he is registered for that course. The withdrawal period is the second through twelfth week of the Fall and Spring semesters and the second through ninth week of twelve-week Summer courses. This period is pro-rated for shorter-length courses (usually 75 percent of course meeting times; please check with the Registration Office. To withdraw from a course, a student must complete and submit the appropriate course withdrawal form, available at the Registration Office. This process must be completed either in person or by using SMCC e-mail accounts.

Plagiarism Statement

The instructor may assign a failing grade for the assignment or course and may require the student to complete additional work for the course. The instructor may consult with the department chair and/or the College's chief academic officer prior to making such decisions.
