KEYNOTE SPEAKER

REZA JALALI

Reza Jalali is a writer, educator, and a former refugee. Jalali was recognized as one of the eminent ethnic Americans in Making it in America: a sourcebook on eminent ethnic Americans (©2001 by Elliott Robert Barkan.) As a member of Amnesty International USA Board of Directors, Jalali has visited refugee camps in Turkey and Bosnia. In 1992, he visited the White House as part of a national delegation to discuss the plight of Kurdish refugees fleeing Iraq. He has taught at University of Southern Maine and Bangor Theological Seminary. His books include the award-winning children's book, Moon Watchers, Homesick Mosque and Other Stories, a collection of short stories, and The Poets and the Assassin, a five-act play. He has been featured in the National Public Radio's nationally acclaimed storytelling program, The Moth Radio. Jalali is the co-author of Dear Maine, a book about Maine's immigrant population, published in 2021. Jalali has received an MA from Antioch University New England and an MFA from University of Southern Maine. He is the Executive Director of the Greater Portland Immigrant Welcome Center.

SPECIAL STUDENT AWARDS

JESSICA CLARK

Student of the Year/President's Award

Jessica is originally from New Jersey but has called East Waterboro Maine home for the last 11 years. Jessica's journey at SMCC started in the Fall of 2019 as a Culinary Arts Student, she completed her associates in the Spring of 2021 and this May she will be completing her second associate degree in Business Administration. While a student here, Jessica has continued to challenge herself to grow as a leader. Jessica has been a student worker in the Dining Hall, a front desk worker in Spring Point Hall, a student senator, an alumnus of the Emerging Leaders Program (ELP), a Jobs for Maine Graduates Student as well as a Resident Assistant all while maintaining a 3.7 GPA. Jessica will be transferring to the University of Southern Maine (USM) to pursue a Bachelors in their Business program. While at USM Jessica will serve as a Resident Assistant in the new Portland Commons Residence Hall working with SMCC students who will be living on the USM campus. After college Jessica plans to work in the food industry and someday own her own restaurant that focuses on Polish cuisine.

NGOMBE MUABI

All-Maine Academic Team

Ngombe is an Electrical Engineering major here at SMCC with a 3.5 GPA. He currently works at Abbott Laboratories, and is looking forward to transferring to the University of Southern Maine. Ngombe is thankful for the financial support this award has given him, which will support him in his career at USM.

JOSEPH AGOSTINO

All-Maine Academic Team

Joseph Agostino is from upstate NY, however Maine has been his home for about 10 years now. He is completing his Associate's Degree in Horticulture in May, and will be transferring to the University of Southern Maine in the fall to be a part of their environmental science program. His goal is to work in environmental remediation by helping to remove contaminants in the soil and water. He feels that attending SMCC has been the best educational experience he could imagine.

HIRRUY HAGOS

All-Maine Academic Team

Hirruy is enrolled as a Pre-Engineering student here at SMCC with a 4.0 GPA. After this semester he will be transferring to a four-year institution, seeking a Civil Engineering Degree while making a positive impact on others along the way. Through Civil Engineering, he seeks to develop the currently ravaged region of Tigray, Ethiopia, which is suffering a genocide. Hearing news of the deaths of family members back home has lit a raging fire within him to aid his people. He is honored to be SMCC's Phi Theta Kappa Chapter President, within which he spearheaded the creation of the annual Culture Fest between USM and SMCC. He also serves as the Intercultural Center's Engineering Ambassador, where he, and his amazing peers, further strengthen SMCC's and Southern Maine's communities.

FELICITY BREWER

All-Maine Academic Team

After a life of rich experiences including owning many pets, winning several pig scrambles, working as a software developer, and living abroad, Felicity Brewer has returned to her home state of Maine. She decided to diversify her skill set and further her education in the electrical engineering technologies program at Southern Maine Community College. She is passionate about food security, education, and engineering.

BRETT STEWART

Dean of Students' Award/Distinguished Service Award

Brett is from Olathe Kansas and is currently a residential student on the South Portland Campus. During his time here, Bret has stood out as a disciplined student and leader. Shortly after attending the Maine Student Voting Summit, Brett helped work to establish the Political Science club as a welcoming opportunity for all students interested in working in or studying politics. In the fall of 2022, Brett served as a Maine Students Vote Fellow where he helped organize campus programming educating students on the election process, candidates, and ballot initiatives. Brett also serves as an active member of the Student Senate helping to host events like the commemoration of soldiers at the campus cemetery on Veterans Day, the Captain's Cupboard Anniversary, and the hosting of Maine gubernatorial candidates. This May Brett will be graduating with an Associate in Liberal Studies with a concentration in Political Science and he will be transferring to the College of Literature Science and Art in Michigan to pursue a degree in International Relations and World Politics.

ACADEMIC HERALDRY

CAPS

The black mortarboard or Oxford type is usually worn. There is also a soft cap, resembling an oversized beret, usually reserved for doctors. Certain universities use a gold tassel instead of black to distinguish the cap of a doctor.

GOWNS

Bachelor's – This is a simple black gown with a fairly elaborate yoke. The sleeves are long and pointed. There is no adornment, although a few institutions permit a piping of the school color on the yoke.

Master's – Until 1960, the gown had long sleeves with the arms emerging from the sleeve through a slit at the elbow. The rest of the sleeve dangled, terminating at the knee of the wearer in a square cut end into which a semicircle was cut. In 1960 this gown was modified, and an opening was made at the wrist.

Doctoral – This is an elaborate gown made of velvet, or with velvet panels around the neck and down the front, with three bars on bell-shaped sleeves. It is more fully cut and may be ornamented with a paneling and bars in color to indicate the faculty or degree. A few universities permit the doctoral gown to be in color.

HOODS

The distinguishing color of the hood tells the most about the wearer. Bachelor's hoods are three feet in length. Master's are three-and-one-half feet in length, and doctoral are four feet in length. Hoods are lined in silk with the official colors of the institution granting the degree. Bindings on hoods are respectively two, three or five inches in width for bachelor's, master's and doctoral. The color of the binding indicates the area of study in which the degree was granted.

The following list indicates a few of the colors associated with various degrees.

Agriculture	Maize
Arts, Letters, Humanities	White
Accountancy, Business, Commerce	Drab
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Engineering	Orange
Fine Arts, Architecture	Brown
Law	Purple
Music	Pink
Philosophy	Dark Blue
Physical Education	Sage Green
Science	Golden Yellow
Social Science	Cream
Theology	Scarlet

ACADEMIC MACE

The ceremonial academic mace, which you see on the platform before you, is an historical amalgam of the regal scepter of rulers with the weapon-like instrument known as a mace. The first dated record of the ceremonial academic mace goes back to 1385 at the University of Vienna. An academic mace is traditionally carried in procession and mounted on stage whenever degrees are granted or when the faculty is assembled in formal academic dress.

Listing in the commencement program does not constitute official confirmation of completion of degree requirements. Because final action cannot be taken prior to printing this program, the list of candidates for graduation is tentative and may include students who, although part of the class graduating in these commencement exercises, will complete graduation requirements after commencement.
