Attendance and Participation

Online discussions and assignments will be posted for your course on Blackboard. They are due by Wednesday at 11:55 pm, Eastern Standard Time. Responses to other students' posts are due by Sunday 11:55pm. Some weeks there are journal or news article assignments in lieu of the discussion. These are due by Sunday at 11:55pm. Late discussion or assignments in lieu of the discussion will not be accepted beyond the weekly Sunday at 11:55pm deadline.

If a student fails to participate in the online discussion or complete a homework assignment for 3 consecutive weeks, he/she will be given an AF grade. In addition, any student that misses 4 or more discussions or assignments may be given an F grade at my discretion.

Students must be respectful and professional to all other students and the instructor during online discussions and any other communications.

You will have an "Introduce Yourself" discussion where you introduce yourself. This will be just one post from you and is exempt from the requirements listed below.

During the semester, you will contribute to online class discussions on Blackboard relating to topics that we cover in assigned readings and homework. In your entries, you will write about the significant points in the topics covered and how they relate to you and your experiences with business. This is an opportunity to demonstrate critical reading, writing skill and your understanding of the text. Please share your insights and observations. You might also seek advice and opinion from others on the topic for the week.

As part of this assignment, you will also comment on at least one other student's discussion post in that week (the goal is robust, on-line, dialogue). Your comments must be constructive and substantive. When responding to threads, you are required to respond thoughtfully and with reference to examples and theory. The question or statement for discussion will be available online on Monday of each assigned week – initial posting for the week's topic must be completed by Wednesday 11:55pm and conversations on that topic will conclude by Sunday at 11:55pm of that week. Refer to the rubric for the grading scheme, and review it with your post in mind prior to submitting your post.

Online discussion evaluation will be based on relevance and contribution to the topic. You should:

- Incorporate vocabulary and/or major concepts from the chapter.
- Incorporate examples and quotes from any articles assigned that reinforce your points.
- Make sure you work to move the discussion forward.
- Bring in information from other sources.
- Pose your own thought provoking questions.
- Offer examples from personal experience.
- Answer and respond to questions.
- Make sure you don't repeat the same thing as previous students.

Discussions are mandatory. If a student fails to participate in the online discussion for three consecutive weeks he/she will be reported as a student that has stopped attending class. This will remove you from the class regardless of any other assignments you turn in.

Quizzes

Quizzes are available on Blackboard and are due for each chapter by Sunday at 11:55pm. They can be found in the weekly Course Content folders. Quiz results can be seen after the due date. Quizzes are generally 20 questions, and you have 45 minutes to complete them. You will have 2 attempts at the quiz, and will receive your highest grade from these 2 attempts. Study hard – and good luck! Late work is not accepted.

Summer 2016

Tests

There are 3 tests. They are made up of 50 to 60 multiple choice and true-false questions. The tests are 2 hours in duration, so set aside 2 hours of uninterrupted time to complete the test. See the assignment schedule below for the chapters each test covers and the due dates. Tests must be taken during the week they are open. Tests open the Monday of the week they are due, except the last test, which is open Saturday Aug 13. Exams are due by 11:55 pm on Sundays as assigned, except for the final test which is due Friday Aug 19 – the last day of the semester. Failure to take a scheduled exam, without prior permission for an excused absence, will result in a “0” grade for that exam. Make up exams are not given. All exams must be taken to pass the course.

Article Review Project

There are three Article Review Assignments. A one-page analysis (250 word minimum) with comments must be submitted as a blog. They will be graded based upon your understanding and comments on the contents of the article. Higher grades will be given for excellent analysis, insights and relating the material to the text. Students are free to comment on each other’s blogs. The due dates for these projects are in the assignment schedule below. Details on the Article Reviews are located in the Course Content folder, in the week the assignments are due, per the assignment schedule at the end of the syllabus.

Article Review 1: Personal Finance ; Article Review 2: Human Resource Management; Article Review 3: Advertising and/or Promotion.

End-of-Course Evaluation

Students complete evaluations for each course attended at SMCC. Evaluations are submitted online and can be accessed through the student portal. Students can access the course evaluations beginning one week before the end of classes. The deadline for submission of evaluations occurs Monday at 5 p.m. following the last day of the class. You will receive an e-mail to your student e-mail account when course evaluations are available.

To request a refund, please bring the offending print to the IT Department in the basement of the Ross Technology Center. Refunds will be granted in the form of a credit to the student's account.

Add-Drop Policy

Students who drop a course during the one-week "add/drop" period in the fall and spring semesters and the first three days of summer sessions receive a 100% refund of the tuition and associated fees for that course. To withdraw from a course, a student must complete and submit the appropriate course withdrawal form, available at the Registration Office. This process must be completed either in person or by using SMCC e-mail accounts.

Plagiarism Statement

If an instructor suspects that a student has knowingly committed a violation defined in the Maine Community College System Policy on Student Grade Appeals and Academic Misconduct, the instructor has the authority to review the alleged misconduct and determine the grade that the student should receive for the assignment and the course. The instructor may assign a failing grade for the assignment or course and may require the student to complete additional work for the course. The instructor may consult with the department chair and/or the College's chief academic officer prior to making such decisions. If a student seeks to challenge an instructor's determination, the student should submit a grade appeal.
